Access to books & Resources should not be limited.

Parents should be parents. Monitor what your kids read.

If you, as a parent, think reading material is inappropriate for your child, then you should discuss this with your child and make a decision as a parent on what your child can read.

about children who are born with gender dysphoria or are LGBTQIA+ and often suffer greatly under parents who, because of religious or other belief systems, do not support their children's needs or even make their lives hell through ^{lack of} at least this basic ~~lack of~~ scientific information that libraries can provide to these children and their families.

Should there NOT BE a separation of a myriad of religious beliefs and the public system (known as the State)? Should not the Library Board decisions be based on scientific FACT to protect our children from misinformation, suffering and, in too many instances, even suicide, because of abuse regarding their GOD given genetic needs at birth?
